I am thrilled and honored to receive the prestigious IPMA Global Graduate Research Award Outstanding Contribution 2021 and join the cohort of past and future winners. I deeply appreciate the support that I received from my Ph.D. adviser and Georgia Institute of Technology. IPMA is an amazing international community for practitioners and researchers around the world dedicated to project management. This award encourages me to explore more interesting topics and contribute more impactful studies in future.

IPMA Graduate Research Award
Outstanding Contribution 2021

I'm very pleased and honored to receive the prestigious 2021 IPMA Global Research Award. Winning the Global Research Award is a real achievement, because it represents the contribution of our research work to the field of project management. Our research on "Project portfolio resource risk assessment" has been recognized by the global project management research community as an "Outstanding Contribution". The award will inspire us to continue the further exploration of risk in project management.

Kaimin Zhang
Outstanding Contribution 2021

I am honoured to receive the prestigious 2021 IPMA Global Research Award for my PhD research on "External stakeholder engagement in complex projects". Winning the "IPMA Graduate Research Award" is very exciting and a true accomplishment as an early career researcher – the award demonstrates the quality and value of my research to the project management discipline and international research community. I am deeply grateful to IPMA and all my international colleagues for this acknowledgement. This achievement inspires me to aim even higher in my future research on project stakeholders.
